Monikansallinen vs. kotimainen omistus

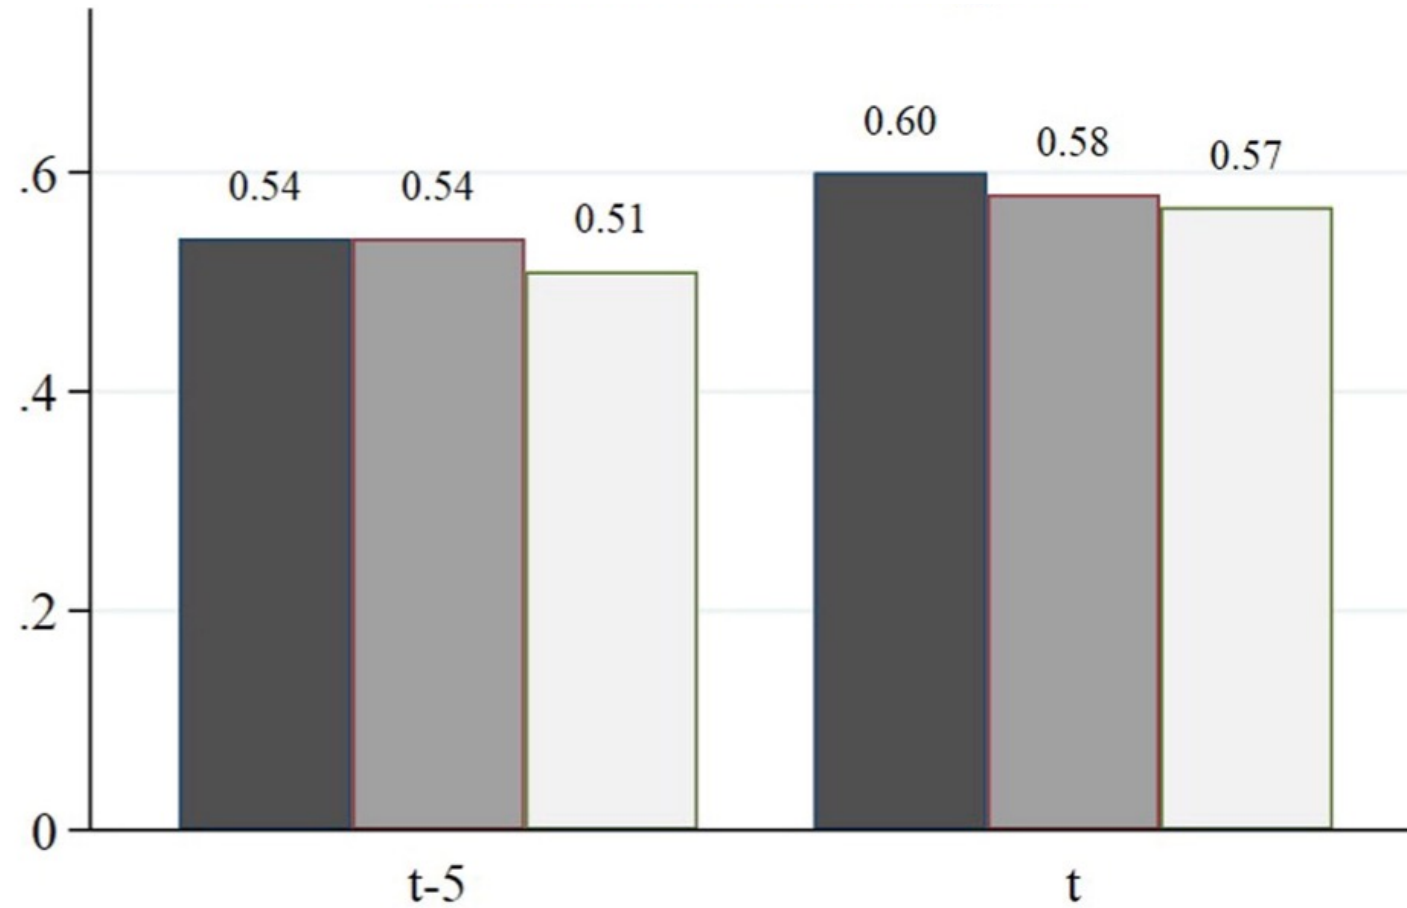

Sample of 7,262 manufacturing and 661 retail firms, of which 5,441 are purely domestic and 2,482 are foreign multinationals. Domestic multinationals are excluded—that is, the domestic subsidiaries of multinational firms (like a Toyota subsidiary in Japan).

Omistuksen tyyppi ja johtamisen laatu

Management scores after controlling for country, industry, and number of employees. Data from 9,085 manufacturers and 658 retailers. "Founder owned , founder CEO" firms are those still owned and managed by their founders. "Family firms" are those owned by descendents of the founder. "Dispersed shareholder" firms are those with no shareholder with more than 25% of equity, such as widely held public firms.

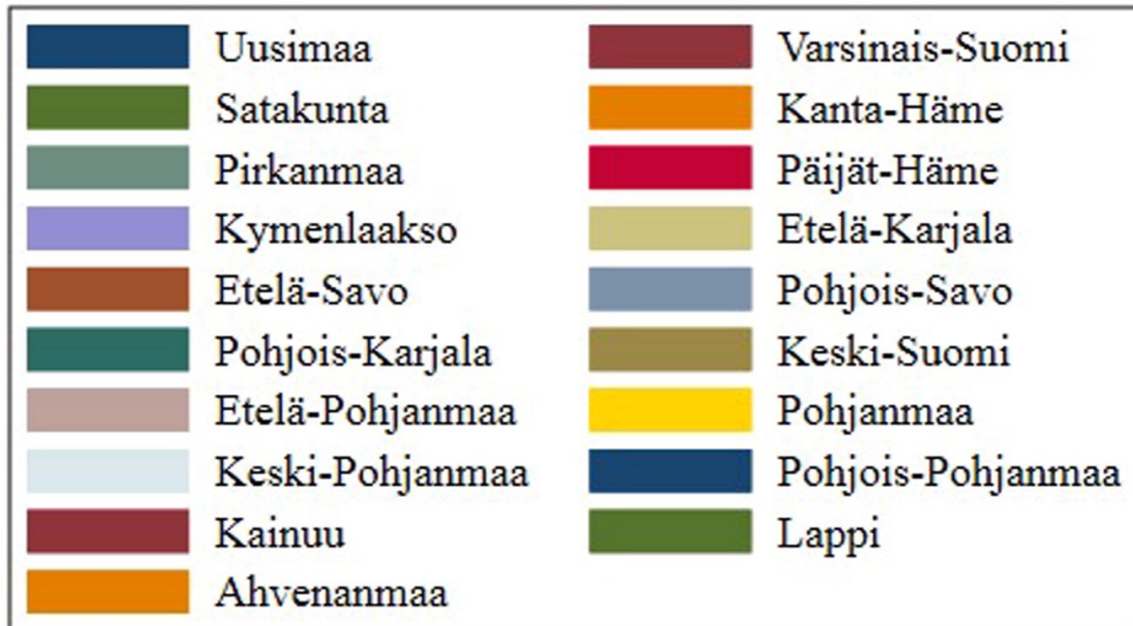

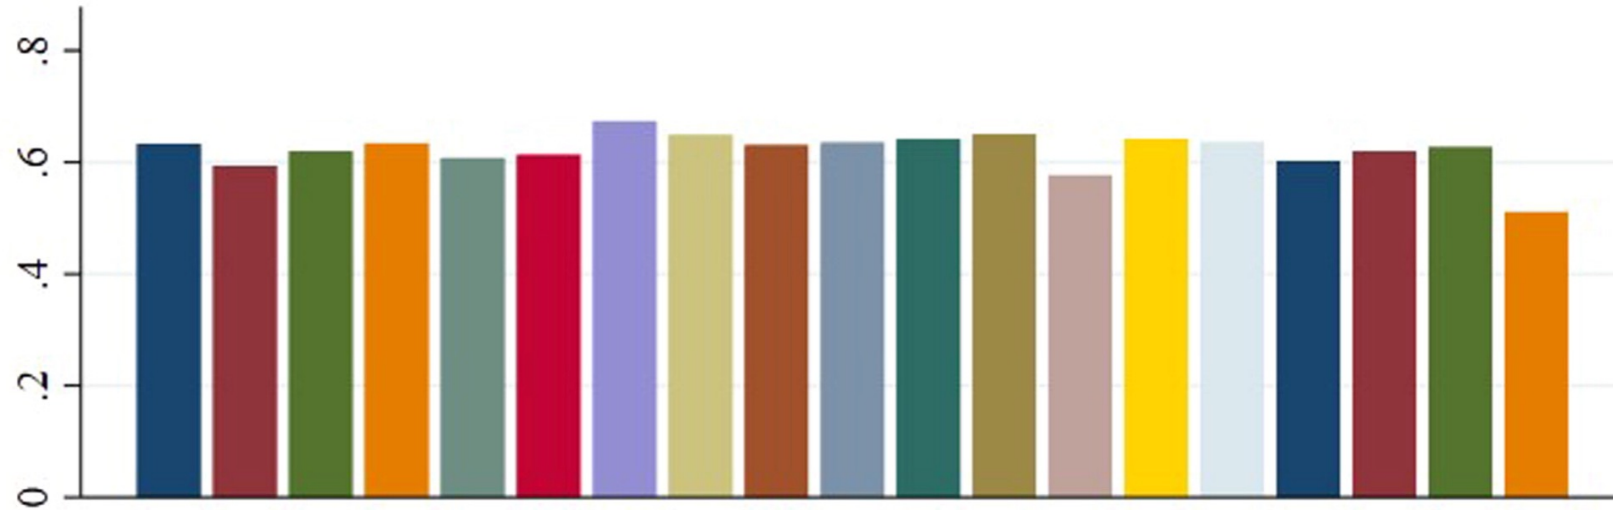

Julkinen omistus on yhteydessä huonompiin johtamiskäytäntöihin

Management scores after controlling for size (number of employees, beds, or students) and country. Data from 9,079 manufacturing firms, 1,183 hospitals, and 779 schools. There were no publicly owned retail firms, so the comparison is not possible within retail.
